About Our Program

The information that follows is from AOPA's web site and is used with permission.

On January 1, 1991, Phil Boyer became only the third full-time president in the 60-year history of the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association

A long-time broadcasting executive and general aviation advocate, Boyer is a 6,000-hour instrument and multiengine-rated pilot who has been flying for more than 33 years, 15 of those as an aircraft owner.

Phil Boyer's multimedia presentations are fast-paced and high-tech, informative and entertaining. And using new, interactive technology at each meeting, about 50 randomly selected pilots participate in a real-time electronic poll on a variety of issues. The audience sees the results instantly!

AOPA's Pilot Town Meetings offer pilots and aircraft owners a lively forum in which to discuss matters that are important to them, exploring issues and concerns with AOPA's president and with each other.

Boyer regards the Pilot Town Meeting as a learning vehicle for himself, too. Indeed, his primary purpose in instituting them eight years ago was to become more familiar with the concerns of pilots and owners through a direct, personal exchange of views. He credits this continual feedback (in addition to continual member research) with helping guide AOPA in constantly improving its service to members. And that, in turn, has sparked the steady rise in AOPA membership to its record 360,000.
